(see over-page)

Benjamin Clapp not with Maj. VanCleave on board ship from New York to Sorel, although he may have come on another ship.
It was not in Muster Roll of Tp. 4 (Adolphustown) on 6 Oct 1784
He had crown grant of W $\frac{1}{2}$  lot 25 conc. 3 100 acres 25 Nov 1802
In Quebec Plan (see map) this lot was allotted to Christ<sup>n</sup> German Jr. (Oct 1784)

Benjamin Clapp's name does not appear in Adolphustown on the Quebec Plan of that township. 6 Oct 1784

Benjamin Clapp and family are found in the censuses of Adolphustown from 1794 to 1822.

Therefore Benjamin Clapp arrived in Adolphustown between 1785 and 1794.

the other Loyalists, rowing up the St. Lawrence with Major Vanalstine's party and landing at Hay Bay in Adolphustown on the 16th June, 1784, to begin the settlement of Upper Canada. Joseph, Benjamin's brother, left Duchess County with his brother-in-law Samson Striker and his sister Ursula, the second year after the war in January, travelling with a sleigh and team over Lakes George and Champlain, down the Riviere Richelieu to Montreal and thence up the St. Lawrence to Adolphustown, their new home, arriving in February, being over a month making the journey.

Joseph married Nancy Miller, the daughter of a Loyalist in March, 1789. Philip Clapp, the grandfather of the writer, and his father's second child, was born in October, 1792. A grant of land for military services of the west half of lot 13 in concession 3, Adolphustown, was made to Joseph. I have this information from the Dominion Archives.

In 1808, Joseph sold his land and removed to South Marysbrough in Prince Edward County, erecting a saw mill there, naming the place Milford, and being the first settler in that Township. He was called to the War of 1812, and like so many other Loyalists left his farms and mill in the care of his good wife and children, going to Kingston in the early fall, becoming a member of the Prince Edward County Militia, Captain John Allen's Company. He died in the following February, aged about 50, of some malady contracted while in the garrison, and was buried in the military cemetery on Clarence street in that city.

Joseph had been reared a Quaker, but married a Methodist, and we find that in 1792, he subscribed five pounds for the building of the first Methodist church erected in old Canada, the second in the Dominion, and the first building in Ontario solely devoted to religious purposes.

Playter describes Joseph as a brother-in-law of Elizabeth, the -widow of Philip Roblin

JOSEPH, 6, CLAPP (No. 65). He was born in Dutchess Co., N. Y. in the year 1762. He may have been a sailor in early life, as tradition says he was "at sea" at the time of his father's death. He was a member of Colonel Roscoe's company of Dutchess Co. militia and served during the war of the revolution on the side of the Americans. About the year 1790 Joseph, 6, went to Canada in company with his brother-in-law, Sampson Striker. They traveled, it is said, with a sleigh and a pair of horses; went by way of Lake Champlain; crossed the river St. Lawrence near Montreal, and finally settled at a place called Adolphustown, about 30 miles west of Kingston, C. W. having been 20 days on the journey from their home in Dutchess Co. They settled on land in a new, uncleared country, where but few white men had ever trod, and underwent many privations. Joseph, 6, lived several years in Adolphustown, with Sampson Striker, and in March 1798 he married Nancy Miller, who went to Canada with the Noble family, from New York State, near where he formerly lived. He took up a wild farm at a place called Hay Bay, in Adolphustown, where were born to him seven children: Sarah, 7, Philip, 7, Catharine, 7, Fatienee, 7, James, 7, George, 7, Samuel, 7. In 1808 he removed to Marysburgh, now Prince Edward, where he purchased several wild farms and mill privileges, and where his youngest son, Joseph, 7, was born in 1811. He was very prosperous till the breaking out of the war of 1812, which caused great hardships among the settlers. In the winter of 1812-13, he was summoned with others to go to Kingston on duty. He remained there till February 29th, when he died, aged about 52 years.

Children of Joseph 6 and Nancy (Miller) Clapp:

Philip, 7, his oldest son, after his death took charge of his affairs, was prosperous in business, and at the time of his death, in Clayton P. 32. Joseph Clapp was brother-in-law of Widow Roflin.

September 1833, owned about 1000 acres of land and mills. He was killed by lightning as he was standing under a tree on his own farm, when about 30 years of age. He was a pious, Christian man, and he died much lamented by all, leaving a widow and three children, one son and two daughters, quite young. His son, Philip, 6, became heir to all his property; but, though moral and upright, somehow he did not get on well, and after about twenty years he sold all his lands and mills and removed to the west, where he now lives with a family of four sons and three daughters.

Robert, 9, was a member of Parliament in Canada from Bruce County. Married and had a family.

David P., 9, had two daughters, names not known. He was born in Ontario and moved to Pas, Manitoba, where he was living in 1922-23

James, 7, second son of Joseph, 6, Clapp, was born in the year 1800 and died in 1875, being nearly 75 years old. He was much respected and died lamented by all, after three hours illness, with these words upon his lips:- "The Lord's will be done." he was about 13 years old when his father died and he had to work his way in the world as best he could. In so new a country as Canada then was, there were no schools, and his education was therefore necessarily deficient. He worked for his brother Philip till about 18, when he was hired as a laborer in Marysburgh woods, and rafted timber, often going to Quebec, a distance of over 400 miles. When he was 26 years old he married Jane Sproul and took or purchased a wild farm in Marysburgh, built a saw mill, lumbered, and went to Quebec several times. This section then produced some of the best pine and oak timber that grew in America. It was run down the Black River and then rafted. In this business he was prosperous. He had five sons and one daughter. Children:

Joseph, 8, born about 1823; died in 1870 leaving a widow and eight children.

In 1854 he went to Quebec in company with his father, with a raft of his own. He has filled several honorable positions, such as Councillor or Supervisor, for many years Chairman of the same, and was named to serve as a member in the Legislature. Annie Keziah Trimble ~~Van Dusen~~ born 24 Dec 1885

Robert Clapp J. P. of Milford is the grandson of Joseph Clapp a U. E. Loyalist from Poughkeepsie N. Y. which place he left in the winter of 1780-1 and drove in a sleigh with his family, then consisting of 3 persons, via Lake Champlain Montreal, to Adolphustown where he located land and settled on Hay Bay. They were just a month in making the distance from Poughkeepsie, the great part of the route lying thro a wilderness without roads or where inhabited at all, by those who were intensely hostile to all of Mr Clapps political views. He raised a family of 5 sons + 3 daughters of whom James 2nd son born at Hay Bay in 1800 was father of Robert ~~son~~ subject of this sketch. Under the direction of Col. Cartwright of Kingston Mr Clapp removed with his family in 1808 to the township at Swarysburg a Mr Garrett being at that time the only other settler in the neighborhood. He came here for the purpose of engaging in the lumber trade, as the township had a dense forest of pine & oak. He had built a mill on Black River previous to the removal of his family from Adolphustown, being the first & only mill in the township it gave rise to the name of Milford which the village has since retained

The Capt sented the military Reserve of the Government in 1812 and while in duty - in Switzerland under Gen. Barker he contracted a (cont on page 3)

At the time which he died in 1881, by the existing law the property all fell to the eldest son & his wife's father was left destitute by his death. He was then 13 but by had succeeded in saving enough money at 24 to buy lot 26 1st- con. N.B.R. He married about this time a Miss Sproule, recently from Ireland. When the Sproule family immigrated they were obliged to walk on foot from Lachine to Kingston. Mr Clapp remained on the above lot till his death about 1881. Though over 75- he had never had a moment's illness until 3 hours <sup>before</sup> death.
Old Mr Clapp was the ancestor of a numerous sprawling array of whom are now settled in the Bay of Quinte District. The history of the Clapp family of America is interesting & romantic.
It embraces a book of many hundreds of pages & it took Messrs D Clapp & Son Boston Publishing House from 1840 to 1876 to compile & complete the work. The original ancestor was Roger Clapp one of the Pilgrim Fathers, born in Salcombe, Devonshire
England in 1609 & came to New England on the ship 'Mary & John' in 1630. Robert Clapp born in Hulford 1830 still resides in that village
he served as a millers apprentice & afterward served in same for eighteen years. He now farms extensively (written 84 years ago) owning 400 acres of land has best strains of Ayrshire cattle sheep pigs & some over

He also carries on a general agency business in Foston where he has an office. He has been a Justice of the Peace for 17 years & served on the township council for over 20 years & warden in 1870. He was candidate for M<sup>(Conservative)</sup> Legislature in 1875 - defeated by a small majority.

Clapps settled in Milford in 1808

Descended from Geo. Gilson Clapp, M.D., the founder of the American branch, who emigrated from London to South Carolina in 1666 or 1667

He settled first in West Chester County, but later removed to New York City.

Joseph Clapp, the Canadian pioneer was a lineal descendant.

He was born in Dutchess County in 1780-

Came from Dutchess Co. via Montreal, to P. A. Co.

He married Nancy Miller, a relative of the pioneer Roblin family.

Although a Quaker, he contributed to the building fund of the Hay Bay church.

Several of his brothers settled in Adolphustown.

He built a sawmill in S. Marysburgh, where Milford now stands, the first in the township.

Operated it until war of 1812, when he entered military service & d. of disease in Kingston.

Had sons, James & Philip who operated saw & grist mills.

The elder, Philip, inherited nearly all of his father's estate, & was killed by lightning 16 Sept., 1852.

Philip's son, Philip inherited his father's estate.

Junior had sisters

Nancy, wife of John B. Wilbanks.

Sarah, wife of Peter David of S. Marysburgh.

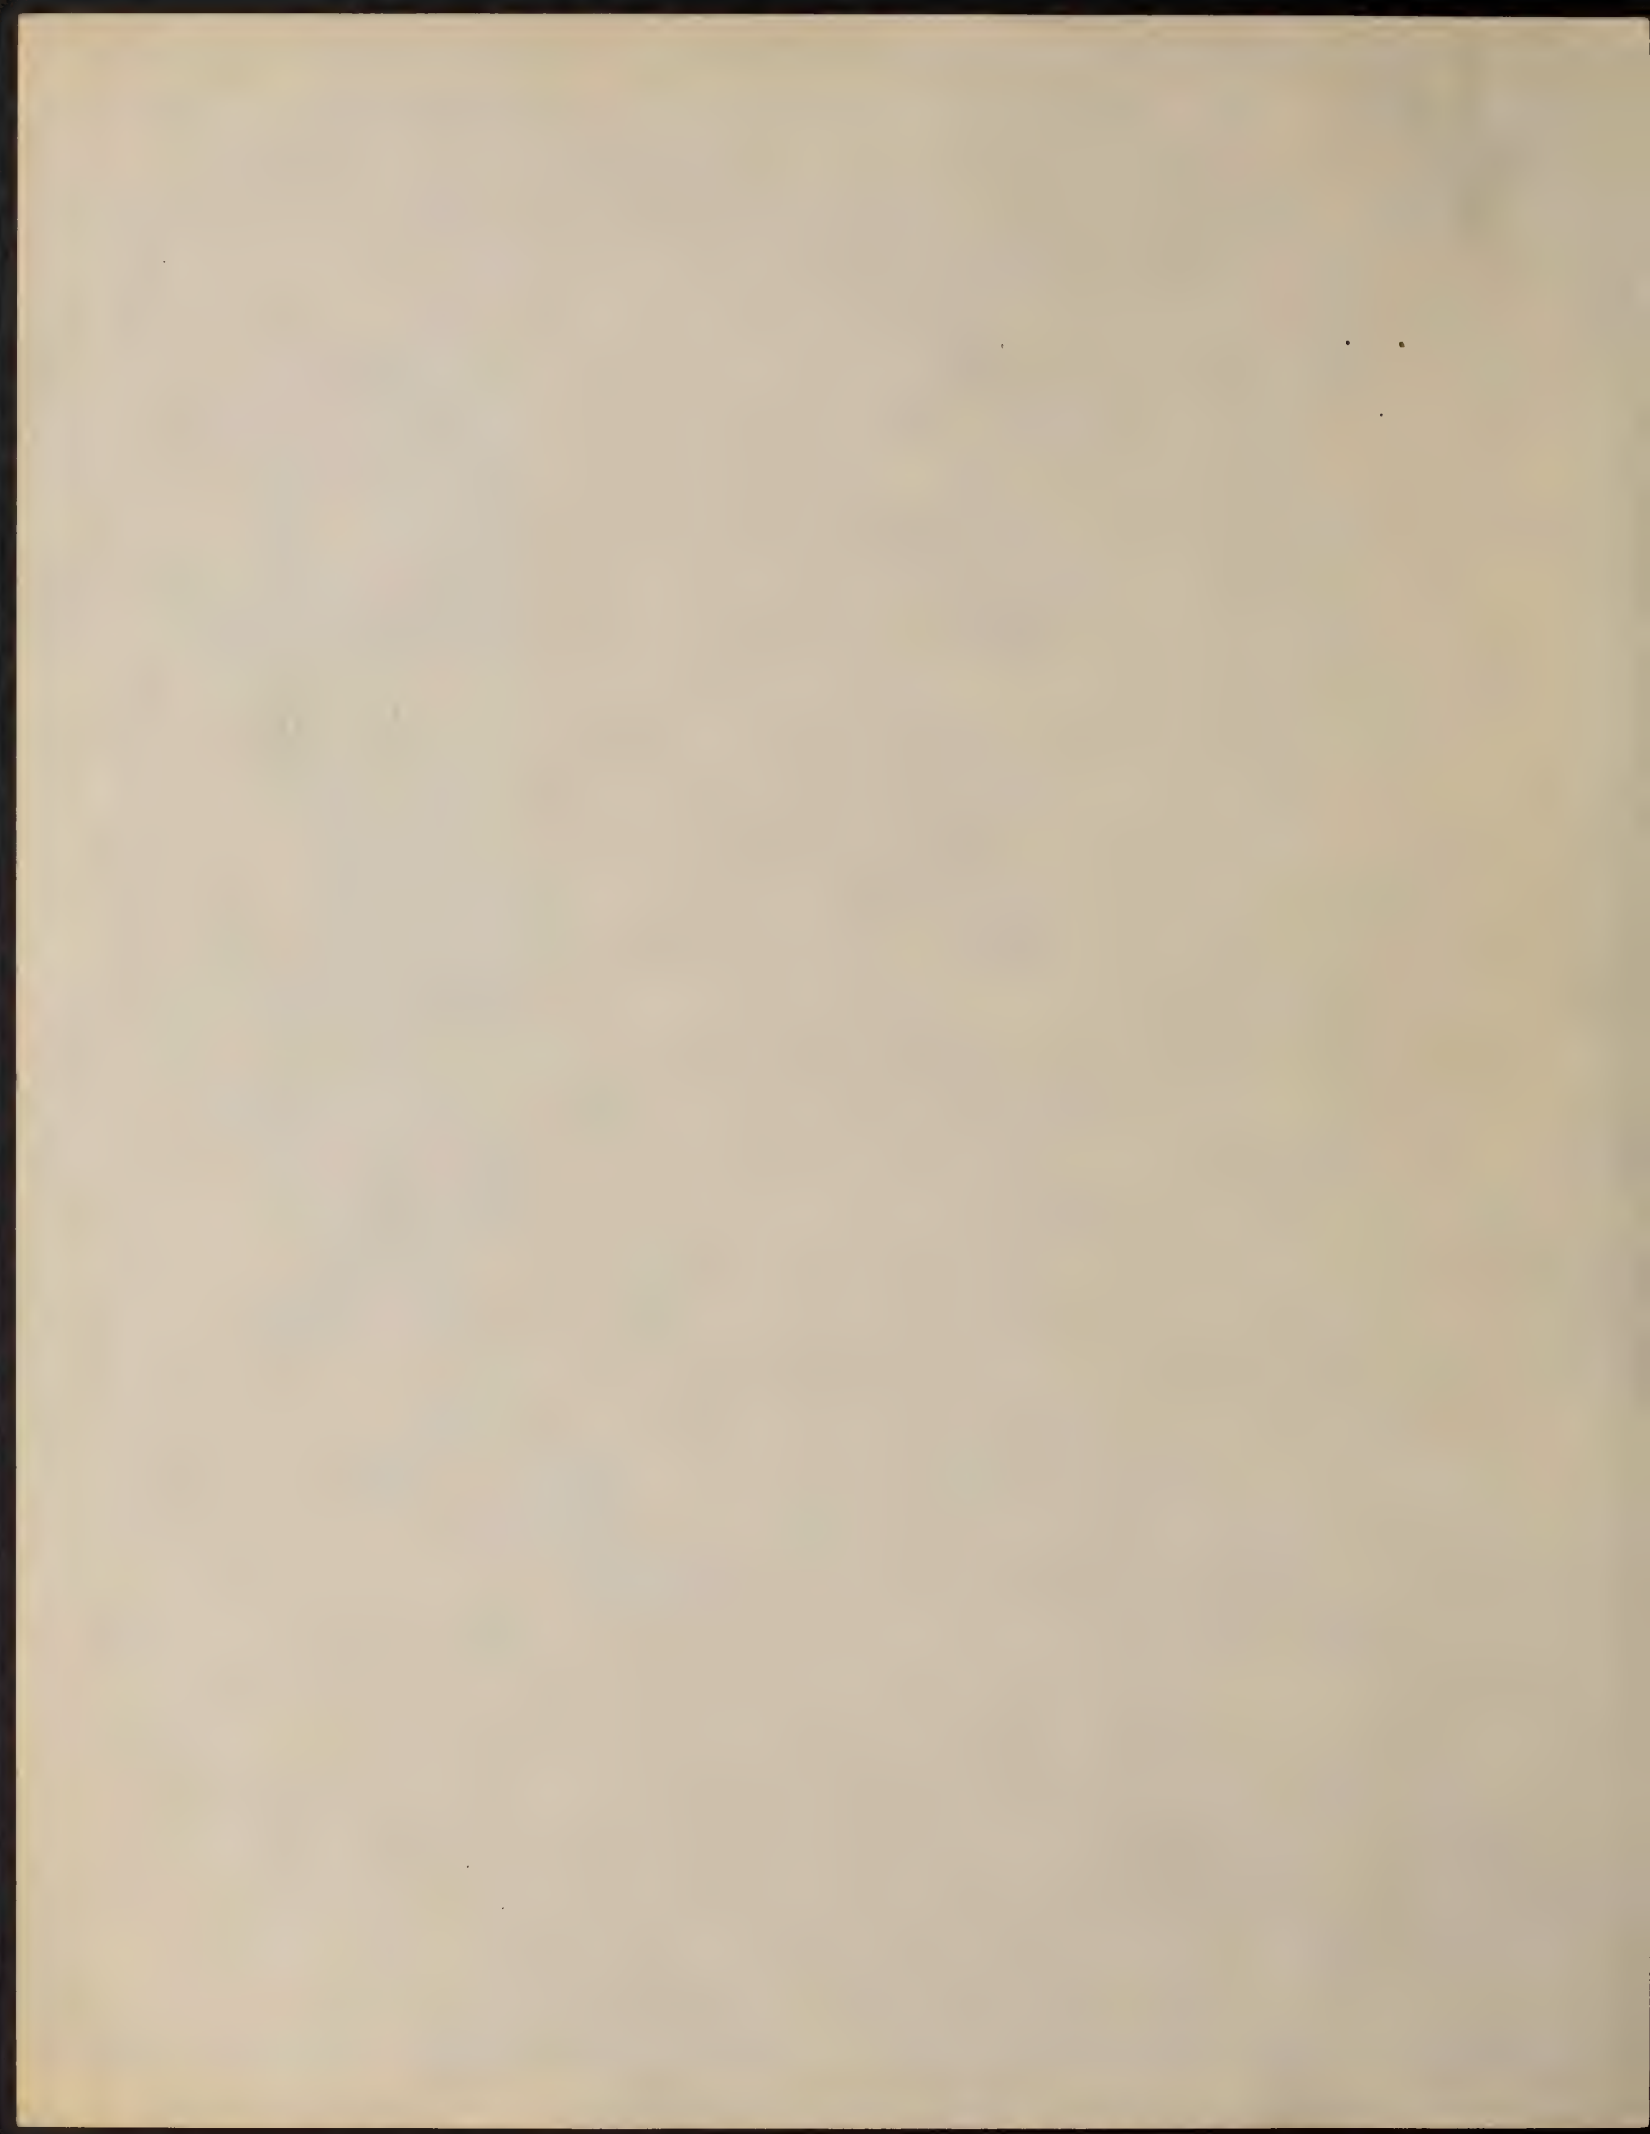

Samuel was another son of the pioneer.

His son was James A., one time Mayor of Pictou

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and dates, which appears to be a record of some kind. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list is organized into two columns, with names on the left and dates on the right. The names are: John Smith, James Brown, William Jones, and Thomas White. The dates are: 1810, 1811, 1812, and 1813. The list is followed by a signature, which appears to be "John Smith".

Handwritten text in Arabic script, likely a letter or document. The text is faint and mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. It appears to be a formal or semi-formal communication, possibly a letter of introduction or a report. The script is cursive and typical of the Ottoman or early modern Arabic hand. There are several lines of text, some of which are more legible than others. The document is on a single sheet of paper, with a small hole visible on the right edge. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-preserved but faded manuscript.

Personal Notes.

The Clapps.

The Clapps.-- There were quite a number of members of the Clapp family, who, first and last, held public offices in the township. They came from Dutchess County and were Quakers originally. One or two families lived in Fredericksburg, near the Adolphustown boundary. They have been more or less inter-married with the Dorlands, both in the States and here. Benjamin Clapp was one of the principal ones in Adolphustown. One son, Paul Clapp, J.P., became a leading farmer and J.P. in Hillier, Prince Edward. Two of the daughters, Semina and Phebe, married respectively John and Burger Hayck, living north of Hay Bay. The Haycks and their sons mostly lived and died there, and were elected to a number of township offices, first and last. But one of the name now resides in the township. Two others of Benjamin's daughters, Labitha and Deborah married ---- Hageman and Adolph Purdy, leading farmers in Sydney, Hastings County. Several of the relatives have been prominent men in Prince Edward; one, Robert, was warden and a candidate for the Legislature in the Conservative interest. Another, James, is now the Mayor of the Town of Picton. The family were characterized for energy and business shrewdness. John Clapp was a soldier in Burgoyne's army during the war. Reuben B. Clapp, one of the last of the town clerks, was a son of Joseph Clapp, and lived in the 3rd concession on the Hay Bay shore. He died in the township. He married a daughter of James Canniff and reared several children, but none live in the township now, or any of their children.
